CLOVERPORT CELEBRATES END OF WAR IN A HAPPY FASHION

Men, Women And Children Join In With The Noise And Tumult Of A Peace Rally. Stores Take A Half Holiday. One Accident Occurs In Evening.

Monday, Nov. 11, 1918 was truly a red letter day. Cloverporters known of old for their conservatism, did not celebrate Friday afternoon when the unofficial peace rumors came here over the wire, but all that was left undone that day was fully made for on Monday upon hearing the news that the world war had really ended.

At seven o'clock A. M. the church bells begun to ring. Whistles blew one loud shriek after another. Then the men took up the strain and sent forth regular Indian war whoops; and so great was the emotion that pretty soon all the inhabitants, including men, women and children and even babies were all down on Main street having one grand and glorious time weeping and laughing, yelling and screaming; waving flags, beating tin pans, wash-tubs and most anything they could find that would make a noise so loud that it seemed as if the echo would travel across the continent straight through to Berlin.

Shop Men Parade
While the crowd was standing in front of the post-office, the two ministers, Rev. W. O. Rickard and Rev. A. N. Couch called the people to a few moments of prayer and there under the heaven's blue sky, these ministers offered the most reverent and grateful prayers while the crowd remained with heads bowed.

At the conclusion of this, the L. H. & St. L. shop men came marching on Main street and as they marched on through to the East End of town the crowd which had gathered at the post-office joined in the parade, with on impromptu band leading the procession. It was a memorable sight. One parade that every one noticed was the one formed by the colored people of the town. Several colored women got together with their mandolins and guitars carrying flags of the allies, and marched through the streets in as splendid triumphant order as one could imagine for they too had sons and brothers "Over-There" who had helped to bring the victory.

Stores Have Half-Holiday.
By noon, all of the people were so worked up and overcome with excitement that getting down to business seemed a physical impossibility so the merchants and bankers voluntarily agreed to make it half holiday, and at one o'clock you could not have purchased a box of matches, the lid was on so tight.

The majority of shop men took the day off too. The day's celebration was carried on into the evening. Another parade formed after the evening's mail opened, and those who were not parading were either helping or watching the big bon fire where at least $25 worth of gun powder was exploded. The supply of blank cartridges must have been exhausted too, from the way the pistols and shot guns were fired during the day.

Only One Accident.
A celebration such as this one seldom ever takes place unless one doesn't get hurt. Unfortunately it was typical of the day, for one young man was seriously hurt.

The accident happened in the evening when a young boy, Tousey Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rogers had his face considerably burned from a powder explosion. It was stated that young Rogers had his face over one of the powder cans and in place of lighting the fuse, he dropped the match in the powder. One eye was seriously burned and he may lose it.

FUNERAL OF MRS. F. WEATHERHOLT HELD MONDAY

Remains Brought Here From Bakersfield, Cal. Interred Cloverport Cemetery.

The remains of Mrs. Mary Gibson Weatherholt, wife of Mr. Frank Weatherholt, who died of pneumonia Saturday Nov. 2nd in Bakersfield, Cal., was held from the residence of Mr. Weatherholt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Weatherholt at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. A. N. Couch, pastor of the Cloverport Baptist church and of which the deceased was a member conducted the services, and interment followed in the Cloverport cemetery.

The pall-bearers were: Messrs Tom Carter, Labe Behen, Mike Tucker, Wilbur Chapin, Ruther Pate and Byron Whitehead.

The remains arrived here Monday morning accompanied by Mr. Weatherholt and his brother, Randall Weatherholt and the parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gibson of Prospect, Ky.

Besides her husband and baby daughter, Mary William Weatherholt and parents, Mrs. Weatherholt leaves a brother, Edison Gibson who is in Radio service of the U. S. N. She also had a large connection of relatives in Breckinridge county.

Those who attended the funeral from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gibson, Miss Angie Gibson of Irvington, Hewitt Gibson of Webster, Lieut. John Gibson and Mrs. Gibson of Camp Taylor, Louisville, and Mrs. J. E. Gibson of Prospect, Ky., Miss Gency Willis of Louisville and Mrs. Elmer King of Irvington.

ful wife of a few months lonely and sad, who had felt love, devotion and affection, nearby were friends, for enemies he had none, who throbbed with feelings of pity for the bereaved ones for only in the July previous had he left them to do service beneath the stars and stripes.

Rev. Meng conducted the funeral service beneath the canopy of the heaven's blue sky and over the grave pronounced the last benediction of respect. Thus the death of a soldier boy brought forth a more loyal citizenship, and a nobler patriotism to wave its force on down through the ages until in the great beyond it receives its reward before the throne of God.

INFIRMITIES CAUSE DEATH OF R. C. OWEN

Last Member Of Immediate Family. Buried Near Boyhood Home.

Mr. Robert C. Owen, age 74 years, died at the home of his nephew, Mr. R. Sidney Owen of Hardinsburg Route No. 1, Tuesday, Nov. 5th. His death was due to infirmities of age, hastened by a cancer of the face.

Mr. Owen's remains were taken to his boyhood home, Davidson's Ferry on Rough creek, for burial on Wednesday. Rev. J. E. Meng had charge of the service and there was a large concourse of friends present to pay the last tribute of respect to this man who was held in high esteem by all who those with whom he associated.

Mr. Owen was a bachelor, and the son of Mr. James Owen. He was also a first cousin of the late Dr. J. T. Owen of Cloverport. He is the last member of the immediate family to be taken; his brother, W. J. Owen having died about a year ago.

Mr. Owen made his home with Mr. and Mrs. R. Sidney Owen. He was during his prime of life, a very successful farmer and was known throughout Breckinridge county.

Victory Girls Bazar In Hardinsburg

Next Saturday Nov. 18th, Hardinsburg will have a great sale of articles made by the Victory Girls and will be held in Hardinsburg next Saturday afternoon. All the money earned will be pledged by the girls to the United War Fund Campaign. Coffee and sandwiches hot chocolate and cakes will be served during the afternoon.

Fancy work articles, crocheting, tatting, aprons, bags, dolls, pies, cakes, salads and jellies all kinds of farm products, nuts, cut flowers and plants will be sold. There will be a grab bag too and orders will be taken for Xmas cards and Xmas magazines.

Everybody come in at the sign of the Blue Tangle next Saturday afternoon.

Hold Your Liberty Bonds.

Some get-rich-quick concerns are endeavoring to persuade patriotic Liberty bond holders, whom they know will not sell outright their Liberty bonds, to turn over their Liberty bonds to these companies as security for a loan and with the money thus borrowed purchase stock in their companies.

A Liberty loan bond is the safest investment in the world, and a prudent man will very carefully investigate any effort to induce him to exchange it for a less safe investment. This lending one money on Liberty bonds as security to purchase stock in the lender's company is in many cases only a thinly disguised method of exchanging stock of doubtful value for Liberty bonds of unquestioned value.

It is a good business and it is patriotism to hold your Liberty bonds.

TO THE GIRLS OF BRECKINRIDGE COUNTY

An Important Message In Regard To The Victory Campaign On This Week.

The War Fund Campaign is now on and every girl in the county should be ready to do what she can to Earn and Give to this great War Fund. Every girl who gives something no matter how little is enrolled as a Victory Girl and privileged to wear the Victory Girls' button and to have a window card in her home.

No girl in Breckinridge county wants to be left out. Sign the pledge card and earn money and be a Victory Girl. You don't have to pay your pledge until March 1st but you must see your local chairman in charge and get your pledge card from her.

Here are some ways for you to earn the money:

Knitting
Crocheting
All fancy work
Telling orders for Xmas magazines and Xmas trees
Selling nuts, eggs, chickens, butter
Simple sewing and mending

Tell the grownups you want to earn money for the War Fund Drive and no real man or woman will refuse you.

Sign the pledge cards and tell all your friends to do the same. This is for all girls from 10 to 25 years.

YOUR QUOTA IS $340.00 GIRLS. OVER THE TOP TO VICTORY.

Any girl who wishes to send in any article to the Victory Girls Bazar at Hardinsburg next Saturday may do so and full credit will be given on your pledge and credited to your local quota. Mark all articles plainly with your name and the price desired and send in care of Mrs. L. D. Jones, Hardinsburg not later than next Friday (Nov 16th.)

KY. AVIATOR KILLED IN B'KLYN

Near Mrs. Beardsley's Home Who Is Also A Kentuckian From Lodiurg.

A clothespole planted in the rear lawn of the home of Henry D. Lott, at No. 391 Ocean avenue, Brooklyn, brought about the deaths of First Lieutenant E. H. Austin and Second Lieutenant Charles L. Kenny, Jr., United States army aviators, when they sought to make a forced landing of their airplane there shortly before 10 o'clock this morning.

The aviators from the Mitchell Field, at Mineola, had been maneuvering over the Flatbush section of Brooklyn from early morning. Once they had been driven to a landing in Prospect Park by engine trouble, but promptly took the air again.

A second time the missing of the engine caused them to land on the Parade Grounds south of Prospect Park. Nothing daunted, they made another ascent and still another descent on the Parade Grounds.

Thousands See Crash.
By this time their flying was being watched by thousands of persons from the streets and homes, and hundreds had flocked to the Parade Grounds. These saw the two men start the engine of the big observation airplane—a Curtiss J. N. H-4 equipped with an Hispanola engine—and once again soar skyward.

They had gone up only about 500 feet when the humming of the engine came to a sudden stop. Once or twice its cylinders barked erratically as Lieutenant Austin, piloting the machine, tried to get it running.

When he found he could not he tried to volplane back to the Parade Grounds about ten blocks away, but the machine was descending too swiftly.

It went rushing down, barely skimming the roof of the Erasmus High School, circled the spire of the Dutch Reformed Church at Church and Flatbush avenues, shot over Albee place. Then, the pilot pluckily and cool in his extremity, selected the Lott lawn as the likely place for a landing in some degree of safety.

Pole Brings Disaster.
Doubtless he and Lieutenant Kenny would have escaped injury beyond a rough shaking up, for Lieutenant Kenny had the controls in command and was bringing the airplane's nose up so that its rear wheels might touch the ground with the right balance, when the clothespole interposed to cause a fatality.

The clothes pole thrust through the tail planes which ripped and snapped and just as the machine touched the ground it was thrown heavily to one side. The fuselage overturned, burying the aviators, locked in their seats beneath it, and crushed their heads.

There was hardly the loss of a minute before rescuers were at work on the wreckage, led by Daniel J. Lyons, of Engine Company No. 279, who witnessed the accident. With the assistance of J. H. Lyons, a newsdealer at the Church avenue station of the B. R. T., he lifted the body of Lieutenant Austin free of the wreckage.

Lieutenant Kenny was so enmeshed in the ensnarled wires and ruins of the fuselage that Nolan sent a call to the Fire Department. With police aiding the body of the machins soon

FAMOUS MOVIE STAR TO BE IN CLOVERPORT

Wm. Hart in "Riddle Gawyne" Will Be At The Opening of Bushman Theatre.

Some of the world's most famous movie stars will be in Cloverport this winter. Not in reality of course, but Cloverport will get to see them at their best—when they are acting before the movie camera.

Mr. Oscar Holder who is manager, and a partner of Mr. Thos Bohler in the Bushman Theatre, more recently known as the American Theatre, has closed a 26 weeks contract with the Paramount Company. During that course of time such stars as Pauline Fredrick, Vivian Martin, Wallace Reid, George Beban, Chas Ray, Enid Bennett, Dorothy Dalton, Roscoe ("Fatty") Arbuckle, Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks and Wm. S. Hart will be shown in an unusual selection of pictures which will be entirely varied in quality.

The first star engagement will be Wm. S. Hart in "Riddle Gawyne" a bit of Western story.

On account of the influenza epidemic ban not being lifted the movies will not begin this week, but as soon as the ban is lifted the picture show nights will be Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. The above mentioned picture will be shown the opening night which will be announced later.

MRS. SUE TYDINGS SUCCUMBS TO PNEUMONIA

Was A Decendant of 1st President's Half Brother. Born In Breckinridge.

Mrs. Sue Tydings, 80 years old, widow of Dr. Joseph Tydings, died of pneumonia, Saturday Nov. 9th at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. E. Cogswell, 1708 Stevens avenue.

Mrs. Tydings was born in Double Springs, Breckinridge county. She was the daughter of Henry and Catherine Robinson Washington, a half-brother of George Washington.

She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Annie Beard and Mrs. E. C. Robin, both of Jackson, Miss; Mrs. Clifton Nock, of Louisville and a son, Richard Tydings of Louisville. A brother, Bate Washington and two sisters, Mrs. Annie Herndon and Mrs. Mary Munford, all of whom reside in Irvington, also survive.

Mrs. Tydings was a member of the Broadway Methodist church. Funeral arrangements have not been made.—Courier-Journal.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank all friends who were so kind during the recent illness and death of our dear uncle, R. C. Owen.

WAR FUND DRIVE ON IN FULL SWING HERE

Solicitors Are Busy And Collections Fairly Good For First Two Days.

As late as Monday evening, Mr. D. B. Phelps who wears the "Official" badge as chairman and solicitor for the United War Fund Campaign in this city, reported his collections for Sunday and Monday amounting $323. Mr. Phelps has assisting him in the campaign, Mr. Sapp and Mr. Albert Cockerill who has the L. H. & St. L. shops territory. And with these are Mrs. Frank Ferry, Chairman of the Women Workers and Mrs. David B. Phelps Chairman of the "Victory Girls." The latter's assessment being $100.

Cloverport's quota is $1200. So far the people have responded generously and it is generally believed they will not fail to meet their responsibility.

Farm Tractor Demonstrator

Owing to the influenza epidemic which eliminated all public gatherings indoors and out, the farm tractor demonstration which was to have been held some two or three weeks ago, on Mr. Tom Beard's farm near Hardinsburg, was postponed.

However it was made known yesterday that the demonstration is to be held this time on Wednesday, Nov. 20, at Mr. Beard's farm. The demonstration is being supervised by B. F. Beard & Co., of Hardinsburg, with the view of getting Breckinridge county farmers interested in farm tractors. The meeting is gratis to all who desire to attend.

IN MEMORY OF HENRY E. HAYCRAFT.

Henry Everett Haycraft

Ever and anon events transpire to make the good people of Breckinridge county realize the fearfulness of the war. In the path of the world's dread scourge stalks another assistant of the grim reaper an epidemic of disease with its toll of death. Thus are returned to us in the palor of a casket our dear boys who have consecrated their lives to the service of their country. Often and frequently with admiration shining through the tears do we see our citizens gather to tender to the heroes that loyal patriotic tribute which makes the world akin. Fathers, mothers, sisters, brothers, friends and enemies join in this world wide respect for the boy in khaki who has made the supreme sacrifice.

In the large cities to the tramp of the soldier the funeral dirge of the band and a salute with taps from his Company; are heroes borne away; but not less majestic nor less feelingly patriotic was the scene at McQuady when Henry Everett Haycraft arrived Oct. 28th at his old home depot amid the rumbling of his funeral train whose engine throbbed sensitively, whose bell tolled mournfully, whose steam sounded as the wail of some wild animal in the distant forest in the stillness of the night hovering over its dead offspring. Quietly with the awe of sacredness was his body borne to the spot outside a church door where expression of the young man's true worth might be given their fullest meaning. Nearby resting on the arm of the father was the mother who bore him into the world on March the 27th 1894 about 24 years ago; nearby was a brother in khaki and other brothers as well as fond sisters; nearby was a young beauti-

U. S. HAS WORLD'S RECORD IN SHIPBUILDING

During October 27 Vessels of 398,108 Dead Weight Tons Were Produced.

Washington, Nov. 6.—A new world's record in shipbuilding was set by the shipyards of America in October. The month's production was seventy-seven vessels of 398,108 dead weight tons, according to a summary made public by the Shipping Board to-day. This high mark beats the best previous record held by America in September by nearly 50,000 tons. The total production for the Shipping Board, including two steel steamships delivered by Japanese yards working on contract, were seventy-nine vessels of 415,908 dead weight tons.

New records will have to be made in November and December to pass the estimated production of 3,200,000 tons for the year 1918 made by the Shipping Board. Up to October 31, the production was 2,386,833 tons. There has been a steady increase in monthly totals, however, throughout the year, and if this is kept up production will pass the mark set by a comfortable margin.

October record production was made in the face of the fact that influenza incapacitated about one-third of the ship workers at some time during the month.

The October deliveries comprised forty-seven steel ships of 301,208 dead weight tons, thirty wood ships of 107,200 dead weight tons and two composite ships of 7,500 dead weight tons. The American total alone exceeds by 68,980 dead weight tons the output of ocean going ships in this country in 1914 and 1915. It better the pre-war high mark in American shipbuilding, the total for 1916, by 112,553 dead weight tons. It also surpasses the British record for any month by 102,397 dead weight tons.

Once more the Pacific coast led all sections of the country in shipbuilding. Deliveries from California, Washington and Oregon totalled thirty vessels of 190,400 dead weight tons. Along the Atlantic coast there were completed and delivered seventeen vessels of 120,000 dead weight tons. The Great Lakes shipyards delivered twenty-one vessels of 73,000 dead weight tons. From the Gulf States came nine vessels of 33,200 dead weight tons.

Judge Slack's Nephew

Cited For Bravery.

Mrs. James Montgomery, of Elizabethtown, Ky., received word yesterday that her son, Lieut. Col. J. C. Montgomery, a member of the staff of General Liggett, in France, has been signally honored for bravery on the field of battle and has been promoted to the rank of Colonel.

Colonel Montgomery's feat was read before his regiment. He has been serving in France for some time and has taken part in many important engagements. He was conspicuous in the battle of Chateau Thierry. Col. Montgomery married the daughter of the late General Fitzhugh Lee. His father, Judge James Montgomery, of Elizabethtown is seriously ill at Sts. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital, and during his illness his wife is visiting her sister, Mrs. Philip M. O'Bryan, 1264 Cherokee road. Col. Montgomery is a nephew of Judge R. W. Slack, of Owensboro and Judge of the Circuit Court of the Owensboro district.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

WITH THE HOME BOYS IN SERVICE

In First Real Battle

Of Yanks With Huns.

Pvt. Etsel Manning who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Manning of Mooleyville says that he was in the first real battle between the Yanks and Huns, and altho he has been in several since then, the first will never be forgotten. A letter to his mother says:

Dear Mother: I received your letters yesterday, and was indeed glad to hear from you. I regret very much to say that I haven't written to you for several weeks, but I am kept quite busy and my opportunities for writing with any comfort are few. Mama your letters certainly were interesting I believe you gave all of the news of the neighborhood, which is music to my ears. I had a letter from Mrs. Nettie Lewis of Stephensport, Ky., saying that she read my letter in The Breckenridge News. Her letter was very much unexpected however greatly appreciated, and I have no conception of any letter to the county paper.

I am very sorry to hear of Button having to go and I hope he don't have to cross the big pond, but if he comes to France tell Lillian not to marry for he will return safely. I am sure he will not go through the battles that I have and I am well and feeling fine.

You ask me to write you some war news. That is something I can not do. No one can realize the horrors of war and the hardships endured only those who are really on the field. If you read the papers you can see what the American boys are doing. I am a "Marine" as you know and was in the first real battle ever fought between the Huns and Yanks. The thought of getting out alive sounded impossible and the scene I will never forget, but many of us survived. Have been in several since but none quite so severe.

I do not want you to worry about me. This is only a game with many players and I am just as good a player as any one of them. Mother you have four sons and only sacrificing one of them for a short time for U. S. A. and I am proud to know that I am the one representing the Manning family as a Marine in France.

Yes I had a letter from Pauline Elder some few days past and will answer the first opportunity. Her letter was quite a surprise and was a pleasure to read. Tell Viola I will write her soon, and will pay her a visit in Louisville one of these days.

I attended mass Thursday A. M. Tell papa and the children that I can not write to them all so they will have to get their news from you. I will have to close as my time is about up. Hoping that you are all happy and assuring you that I am in the best of health. I remain, Your loving son, Etsel, 51st Co. 5th Regt. U. S. M. C. American Exp. Force, France.

A Letter From Ira D. Stone.

Pvt. Ira D. Stone, son of Mrs. C. W. Stone of McDaniels is in France and in this letter to his mother he tried to tell her how his Regiment was in England, but the Censor evidently thought it was best for it not to be known as that was scratched out.

Dear Home Folks: As we are now settled down I will write to you. I am well and hope this will find you all well.

I like this country fine and the climate is great as it never gets cold here. The principle crop is grapes they also raise potatoes, popcorn, tobacco, wheat, oats and rye.

I haven't written to Jasper since I arrived here think I shall write to day as it is Sunday and we will have no drill.

Well I can say we are among the best people I ever saw since we left the U. S. A. They will do any thing for us they can. I would give anything if I could talk to them, but am learning a few words and can talk to them some, and I am learning new words every day. The people all wear wooden shoes. Work cattle instead of horses, use carts instead of wagons. Their ways are so odd to me.

We got good news from the front yesterday, the Americans captured 500 Huns and took a very important fort they are taking towns after towns on a forty mile front and I think when this division gets up there they will soon decide the thing. But I like France best anyway.

It is raining today. Wish it had stayed fair as there was to be church on the drill grounds and I was aiming to go. There is a lot of berries here. A bunch of us went out berry picking and had a fine cobbler for supper.

I hope you have gotten the cards and letters I wrote you when I landed in England. We haven't gotten any mail yet since we crossed but a letter from home would sure look good to me. They can get all the light wines they want but the strong drink is not to be drunk by the soldiers. We are near a river where we can wash our clothes.

Tell Pearl to write to me. Tell Ora I am anxious to hear from her. Tell all hello for me.

The houses and barns are built of concrete and rock and have tile roofing. The people drive their geese and sheep to the pasture and sit down and knit and watch them out of the crop as there is not much fence. Love to all and I will close. Answer soon. Your loving son, Ira, Co. I. 335th Inf. A. E. F. France A. P. O. 905.

Sergt. Head Writes

From "Over-There."

Sergt. Jasper Head of the 8th Division now in France, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Head of Lodi-burg. He writes that he hasn't picked the French lingo yet but he thinks that if the cows and chickens and a few of the other inhabitants of that land can jabber it, possibly he can. Sgt. Head tells some interesting things of the old country in the following letter to his mother:

Dear Mother: We are at last peacefully located in our Allied country, and are feeling fine, plenty to eat, candy and tobacco if one cares for it. I am strong on the candy.

I have had an opportunity of seeing quite a lot of this country and it is very interesting though different from ours. The people are inclined to old customs such as wooden shoes and plowing with cows and hauling on two wheeled wagons. The people think lots of the American soldiers and will do anything for us. The children take up with us and learn English very fast. They are very smart and rather pretty.

I know very few French words so far. It seems quite a jabber to me but the geese, ducks, cows and chickens seem to know it so I may learn. I wrote you a letter some time ago from England. I suppose you got it. The country of England is very pretty. The farms are small but more like well kept gardens, none is left idle. The residences are very pretty but I did not like the cities as well as ours.

CARTERS LANDING

It never was our intention to become an aviator but last Sunday we rid into Cloverport on a dreamy eyed mule of course her name was Maud. She seemed to like the town alright till we met an automobile. Right there she got disgusted with city life she riz and flew. Samuel Ahl says when we passed Quiggins store he thought it was some death dealing machine that had broke through the Hindenburg line. Postmaster Chas. Lightfoot says when the wreck passed him with the aid of a field glass he mistook it for a wireless telegram. Dr. Charlie White says that he didn't have on his glasses but he was an areoplane with a kite attached. When we passed Ray Pate's he was singing Goodbye Pa, Goodbye Ma, Goodbye Mul with the Haw hee haw. When we got back to Cloverport Dr. Weddig asked us if that exhibition was free. We told him yes if we got by without a fine it wouldn't cost the city a cent.

Well boys its good night Kaiser. Do you know why? Zach Hardin of Holt, Lawrence Rush of Persimmon Flat, Benedict Elder of Hites Run, William Dorst and John Nick Carter were all caught in the meshes of this last draft. Say Bro. Lodiburg we have searched all the dictionaries but we can't find what kind of chicken you meant. Now if its cooked chicken you mean we will take ours democratic fried brown with good old flour gravy. By jing Joe Greenwood says his brother, Leo broke into the dance this fall and dances as graceful as a cow. Go to it Leo we tackled the dance when we was about your age. But we found that our feet was to large for the sport. We was either falling down, tramping on some girls toes or getting lost from our partner so promade all. Good night. Joe Mulhatton, Jr.

Kentucky Aviator

Killed In Brooklyn.

was hacked to pieces with axes and Lieutenant Kenny taken out. He was unconscious.

Dr. Vincent Gallagher, of No. 997 Ocean avenue who had seen the fall of the big airplane, arrived quickly in his motor car. He pronounced Austin dead and directed the placing of Kenny in an auto which raced to the Kings County Hospital. But he died on the journey.

Showed Splendid Control.

Supreme Court Justice Benedict whose home is opposite the Lott residence in Ocean avenue, had been an interested observer of the maneuvers of the aviators and saw their tragic fall.

"I heard subsequently," he said, "that on landing at the Parade Grounds the fliers told the police they were experiencing engine trouble, but until the final misfortune this would not have been suspected, so skillful and daring had been their manipulation of their airplane. At about 1,500 feet they had performed all the evolutions of volplaining nose-diving, climbing, banking and looping.

"On their last ascent I judged they were about five hundred feet up when their engine failed. It seemed certain they would strike the roof of the Erasmus High School and again the spire of the Dutch Reformed Church and then that they would have to try a landing in the street at Albemarle place.

"The pilot however with fine presence of mind picked out the most available landing place for the crippled machine, and it is the greater pity that an untoward circumstance—the presence of a clothes pole—should have caused the deaths of two brave young Americans."

Lieutenant Charles L. Kenny, Jr., whose home was in Covington, Ky., was attached to the First Provisional Wing, Field No. 2, Garden City. Lieutenant Austin of the Three Hundred and Fifty-second Squadron, Company B, Hazelhurst Field, Mineola was of Boston.

Proof that Lieutenant Austin would in all probability have avoided a serious accident but for the clothespole lay in the fact that the engine was not damaged and that the greatest damage to the plane was that caused in extricating Lieutenant Kenny.

This accident occurred within a few blocks of Mrs. C. M. Beardsley's residence who was an eye witness to the scene. Mrs. Beardsley is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Head of Lodiburg, Ky.

REAL WHOLE WHEAT FLOUR BISCUITS

Once More Says Mr. Hoover.
General Relaxation Of Food
Situation Expected Shortly.

Washington, Nov. 6.—White bread made wholly of wheat flour will be available soon for the people of the United States according to expectations expressed by Food Commissioner Hoover to-day. The withdrawal of Austria from the war and the elimination of U-boats in the Mediterranean, has permitted the reopening of shipping routes from England and France to the wheat markets of India and Australia. Immense stocks of wheat for export are stored in the ports of both of the latter countries.

Shipment of grain into England and France from other sources than the United States, it was stated, will increase the volume of wheat flour available for consumption at home and permit the diversion of the quantities here to the peoples of southern and eastern Europe, who have been cut off from outside assistance until peace conference were arranged.

Negotiations are now in progress for utilizing the merchant vessels of Austria, in the transportation of food materials from other countries for the people there. While the programme of the Food Administration here in the matter has not been made known it is believed the Austrians will obtain much of the needed supply of food from countries that produced large large crops last summer but have been unable to export any part of them because of the shortage of vessels.

A general relaxation in the entire food situation of the world is looked for by Mr. Hoover as a result of the reopening of the shipping channels, and one of the first results will be reducing the quantity of substitutes.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of our dear daughter, Mildred Beatrice Merritt, who departed this life October 14, 1918.

Oh sad and sudden was the call,
For our dear Mildred loved by all
We little thought that on that day,
day,

Our dear darling would be called away.

We loved her yes we loved her
But Jesus loved her more,

It was his will to call her home
To yonder golden shore.

Mildred is gone but not forgotten
Never shall her memory fade,

Sweetest thoughts shall ever linger
Around the grave where she is laid.

Sadly missed by her Father, Mother,
Sisters and Brother.

Pvt. Basham Tours

The Country.

Pvt. Owen Basham of Sample who at the time of the first registration in 1917 was living in California and registered out there. Later on he decided he wanted to return home and so was transferred to the local board in Hardinsburg, and it was then his tour of the country commenced.

After coming to Kentucky the board called him and sent him back to Seattle, from there he was transferred to Oregon, thence to Camp Merritt, N. J., where he sailed for Overseas the last of October. When he returns to the States, Pvt. Basham will have traveled a few miles at any rate.

THE INDESPENSABLE

There is a very indispensable work going on "Over-There" among our American soldiers, a work with but one end in view, and it is that of trying to bring a bit of home life into the lives of those men who have so unselfishly given up their homes and gone a thousand miles away.

This work which we mention, is being carried on by a number of organizations, each having its own mission to perform such as that of making pies like mother makes; furnishing a library with good books and big easy chairs before an open grate; music and song; places of recreation where a soldier might forget for a time, the sound of shell and the sight of dead men; and last but by no means least, places are provided for the boys to worship in the same belief as that in which they have been brought up in.

Seven of these organizations, the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., Knights of Columbus, Salvation Army, American Library Association, War Camp Community Service and the Jewish Welfare Board, have all united in one big effort to raise $170,500,000 for a war chest fund during this week. This sum to be used in providing these comforts and countless others that only the boys from "Over-There" can accurately describe to us after they come home.

Our county will give $5,994.00 its quota and perhaps more, for the most that each one of us will give will be nothing in comparison to what those have given whose names appear at the head of this column each week.

On Sunday Nov. 2, the Jews of Palestine celebrated the first anniversary of the signing of "the Jewish Magna Charta," a title given to the British declaration in favor of the establishment of a national home land for the Jewish people.

When you make your candies for the soldiers' Christmas boxes, remember to save the shells from the nuts used. 1,000,000 pounds of nut shells are needed for charcoal in making gas masks for the soldiers.

Liberty Bond sales may come and go but we have the faithful little Thrift Stamp with us yet.

At any rate, Monday Nov. 11, 1918 was far from being the proverbial "blue Monday" in the good old U. S. A.

FARM AND STOCK.

Tinius and Stillwell sold their crop of 10,000 lb of Burley to Allen Jennings at $30 round. They have 2000 lb of dark that is not sold yet.

A. J. Dye sold his farm of 326 acres near Lodi to Simon Robbins and Nat Arms for $3,500. Mr. Dye thinks of moving to California, altho he is in the market for a small farm and may stay in Breckinridge if he finds what he wants.

Geo. Ed. Lewis sold 3 hogs to Allen Lewis for $117.96.

Ezra Cooper has 2,250 lb of Burley and 35,000 lb of dark tobacco. Mr. Cooper contracted his last tobacco to Beard Bros. at $10 a round. When he delivered it they allowed him $16, the market price. Mr. Cooper said it was practically a gift to him as he fully expected to let it go at $10. He also stated that if tobacco had gone down he would have expected his contract filled.

Robt. Smith sold 7000 lb to Allen Jennings 6000 of it was Burley, and 1000 lb dark. The later brought $17. a round.

The Breckinridge News goes into over a thousand homes in Breckinridge county and into over five hundred out side of the county. The average number of persons in every home is five and besides these readers there are at least 50 per cent who borrow the paper which will run its list up to over 10,000. So when you put your advertisement in The Breckinridge News you see what you get for your money. No other paper in the county covers the field like the News.

Farmers have had two or three weeks of fine weather for gathering their crops and getting their houses

IN MEMORIAM.

Oct. 28, at 9 P. M., the death angel visited the home of Andrew Gilbert and took from him his loving mother. She was 80 years old had been sick only a short time of flu. She leaves a husband and six children to mourn their loss, besides a great many other relatives. Those who survive are: Wm. Gilbert of Stephensport, Horace Gilbert of Cloverport, Mrs. Nelson Miller of Hites Run, Mrs. John Miller of Tell City, Mrs. Ade Hawkins near Stephensport, Andrew with whom she made her home. She was devoted to her family and when death was spoken of she always said, "I am ready to go anytime the Lord calls me." She will be sadly missed by her many friends and relatives. She was gather around their lonely door while alone they sit thinking of that sweet smile they will see no more. But some day they hope to meet her and this aching void to fill. But now all they have is memory and that grass on that distant hill.

Mrs. Clarence Maysey.

in order for the coming winter. From what we can gather farmers have taken advantage of the open season and are better prepared for the winter than they have been in many years.

Another thing we notice too is that farmers are using their brains more than they ever did and are finding out that it pays. They are buying and raising better stock and discarding the scrubs. They are studying their soils and putting life into their sick lands and making them profitable. Tom Beard is buying manure in car load lots and having it shipped in here from Camp Knox. And says it pays him to do it.

The wheat crop is the largest and best that Breckinridge county ever had. Some farmers are still sowing.

W. R. Moorman, Sr., says the cattle that were sold at the Dutschke sale were the best bunch he ever saw taken as a whole. He said they would have brought $10,000 if they had been registered. Here is a pointer buy registered cattle and keep them registered. Mr. Moorman speaks from experience and has built up a fine stock business by paying attention to the demands of his trade.

Geo. Tabor and D. H. Smith, saw mill men have sawed and sold over 200,000 feet of lumber from the Norton tract of land in Norton's Valley in this county. They sold the following barn patterns all built this fall. Wade Pile, 19,000 feet; A. G. Osborne 25,000; Geo. E. Bess for the Skillman place, 18,000 feet; Alexander, 20,000 feet; Raymond Dowell house pattern 9,000 feet and Dr. R. I. Stephenson house pattern 9,000 feet besides several other small lots. They say that there never was such a demand for lumber.

E. J. Seaton, Glen Dean sold Denie Sheeran, Tar Fork a fine Poland China boar shoat for $30.

The Great International Live Stock Exposition opens Nov. and will continue until December 7th. If any of our farmer friends want to attend we will be glad to furnish them with our ticket. The first application gets it. The Educational opportunities of this show will be great and it will pay any farmer especially if he is a breeder to attend. The way to build up your business is to get out and see how other people do things.

The Robertson-Howard Mule Co., bought one mule from Geo. H. Lyddan for $210. One pair mules from John Livers for $475. Sold Alvin Skillman one pair 4 year old mare mules for $690.

W. A. Purcell sold his farm of 145 acres near McQuady to T. J. Watson of Tennessee, for $4000 possession given Jan. 1, 1919. Mr. Purcell is in the market for another farm.

C. V. Robertson is improving the Teaff farm he recently purchased near Hardinsburg. He is building a new residence and barn and putting it in good shape for business. Mr. Robertson has built up and sold more good farms than any man in Breckinridge county. He doesn't spare money or work to make them good. His purchasers are always pleased as makers. They get good values and money

SAD DEATH OF A BRIGHT LITTLE BOY

Chas. Adkins Berry Dies Of
Diphtheria In Evansville
Thursday.

Little Charles Adkins Berry, only child of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Berry formerly of this place, but now residing at No. 3 Randall avenue, Evansville, Ind., died Thursday afternoon, Nov. 7th at 3:30 o'clock. Diphtheria caused his death. He would have been four years old the thirteenth day of November.

Little Charles' life was of short duration here, but he was loved by all with whom he came in contact, and will be sadly missed by mother, daddy and all of his relations.

After a short funeral service at the grave which was conducted by Rev. Gabbert, pastor of the Seven Hills Baptist Church, his remains were interred in the beautiful Elmwood cemetery in Owensboro.

The many friends of the family at Evansville, Cloverport and Owensboro sent many beautiful floral designs. The parents have the sympathy of the entire community in the loss of their little son. Their loss was God's gain.

Those who attended the funeral from Cloverport were: Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Berry, Sr., Mrs. Clovis Bowlds, Mr. and Mrs. Sam R. Berry, Jr., Mrs. T. N. Berry, Harry and Ralph Berry, Mrs. William Hoffious and Mrs. Jno. Ryan.

"He is gone but not forgotten
Never shall his memory fade;

Sweetest thoughts shall ever linger
Around the little grave where he is laid."

WOMEN WORKERS APPOINTED IN W. W. CAMPAIGN

Which Opened Monday Nov.
11. Mrs. Piggott Urges
Women To Work.

With every state in the union planning to increase the allotted quota in the War Work Campaign every individual will be expected to do his duty says Mr. John Mott who heads the workers. The needs of the boys in trench and camp and the needs of women workers at home are met by the seven organizations united in the great drive.

Every man and woman, and every girl and boy will be given a chance to contribute as liberally as possible to the fund and will be expected to give active service in making the campaign a success.

Special duties have been assigned to the women in addition to the one of advertising the campaign by distributing literature at the polls.

Group meetings may be held and the women and men will arrange jointly the details of the campaign.

The women who have been chosen to lead the workers in their communities are:

Hardinsburg.....Mrs. W. C. Moorman
Cloverport.....Mrs. Frank Ferry
Irvington.....Mrs. John Vogel
Bewleyville.....Mrs. Pierce Hardaway
Webster.....Miss Ora Hendricks

Big Spring.....Mrs. John Morris
Glen Dean.....Mrs. J. M. Howard
Garfield.....Mrs. Virgil Smith
Harned.....Mrs. Lon Gregory
Balltown.....Mrs. W. C. Pate
Lodiurg.....Mrs. Asia Hardin
Stephensport.....

These women are urged to enlist other women in the effort to help in the giving the campaign publicity by:

1st Helping distribute the printed matter furnished by the man chairman to every home.
2nd By telephoning seven people facts about the campaign, each of whom will be expected to agree to telephone seven others.
3rd Organize automobile parties to carry information and inspiration to every group meeting.
4th Never let the men rest on the job from the time the campaign begins until it closes.

The county will be expected to increase its quota fifty per cent.
Mrs. W. J. Piggott,
Chairman of Women.

RECEIVES LETTERS FROM AMER. RED CROSS

Mrs. Henry Hall Gets Details
Of Son's Death Through
R. C. Headquarters.

Hardinsburg, Ky. Nov. 12. (Special)

The following letters were received by Mrs. Henry Hall of Hardinsburg, Friday relative to the death of her son, Corp. Byron Hall, Co. D. 125th Infantry, who died Sept. 2, from wounds received in battle on Aug. 4.

"The American Red Cross, National Headquarters, Washington, D. C. Nov. 6, 1918. Mr. Dear Mrs. Hall: You have doubtless received word from the Adjutant General's office and probably from other sources of the death of your son, Corp. Henry B. Hall, Co. D. 125th Infantry, I am therefore forwarding a letter to you from Miss Marion Coltnr who has been glad to write you some of the last details which you so much desire.

"I realize that any words of mine are pitifully inadequate to comfort you in your great loss. Your comfort lies, I know in the consciousness that your son gave his life for the cause which we all hold most sacred. You are very, very proud of him. The country is grateful to him and to you.

"Please accept the deep sympathy of the Red Cross in your bereavement and remember that the "Greatest Mother in the world" stands ready to help you in any way. Do not hesitate to write us if we can be of any further assistance to you. Sincerely yours, W. R. Castle, Jr.

"American Red Cross, American Expeditionary Force, Sept. 6, 1918. My Dear Mrs. Hall: Miss Gailor wrote you a few days ago telling you of the severe illness of your son and now as a Representative of the Home Communication Service of the American Red Cross in the hospital, I am writing to tell you of his death and funeral. He was kept alive for days by his wonderful constitution but even this could not save him. To make him more comfortable his bed was moved out of doors and someone was with him constantly to do everything possible, but on Sept. 2nd he passed away.

"Everyone felt how uncomplaining and brave he had been thro it all. He is buried in the American cemetery near the hospital. I went to his funeral and saw his flag draped casket escorted by his comrades, heard the chaplain read the service, listened to the Army bugler blow "taps" over his grave.

"One can see from his grave-marked by a cross bearing his name the lovely French valley beyond. We know he gave his life for his country and we offer you our sympathy and the comfort that comes with the knowledge that he willingly, bravely gave himself. Yours sincerely, Marion B. Coltnr, Home Communication Service, American Red Cross. A. P. O. 731, Base Hospital 18."

Especially active in this patriotic service were Misses Mabel and Nell Adkins, Susie Thomas Payne, Rose Alexander, Nora Blythe and Reba Bolin.

Grateful To Those Who Assisted. The Victory Girls very sincerely appreciated the liberal donations of flowers from the beautiful gardens of Irvington, and especially thank Mrs. Herbert Beard of Hardinsburg for a handsome basket of chrysanthemums. They also extend thanks to Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Vogel for use of the Vogel Drug Store, and to Mesdames W. B. Taylor, Newson Gardner, and Miss Ada Drury for valued assistance in arranging the flowers and supervising. (Concluded on page 8)

Celebration of the New Italian Gov.-Gen.

One of the most notable events in the history of the Italians was celebrated last week when the inhabitants of that country welcomed in the city of Trieste, the new Italian Governor-General, Gen. Pettiti di Roretto. The Italian poet, Signor Beuelli expressed the celebration which lasted two days as "The realization of a century's dream and the end and aim of Italy's war against Austria-Hungary."

It is stated that all of Trieste's population, which is only about 130,000 since the war, turned out in all of their regalia to meet the Governor and so elated were the women, children and the white haired patriots to have Trieste restored to Italy, that they embraced and kissed the Governor, and so dense was the crowd it was impossible for his automobile to be moved.

Before the celebration took place the Austrian police control of Trieste was relaxed, and the Austrian soldiers realized that their army had been defeated on the Italian front, began demobilizing and went to their homes.

I have not had any mail since I came over. I suppose every one is waiting for me to let them know my address.

This ink is so thin I can hardly write. Hope it will not fade out before this gets home.

I am going to get a permit pretty soon and have you send my sweaters. If I can get hold of a couple of pairs of woolen socks I could use them pretty well.

You need not worry about me for I am not in any danger now and will probably not be.

I will write you again soon. We are busy just now. Lovingly, Sgt. J. A. Head, Mail Detachment, 8th Division, A. E. F. France A. P. O. 905.

Well Satisfied With Army Life.

Mr. Jule B. Jackson of Tarfork was the recipient of this letter from Logan B. Hickerson, who before enlisting was principal of the McQuady Normal School. Mr. Jackson is a true patriot in that he not only has two sons of his own in Uncle Sam's service, but he does a noble part by some other father's son in writing him cheery letters such as soldiers long to get. Mr. Hickerson's letter follows:

Dear Mr. Jackson: Your letter full of interesting events, which I am always anxious to know, addressed to me at Camp Hancock, Ga., reached me here last Sunday. A soldier appreciates letters more than any other class of men, I believe. It gives him more "pep" and energy to know that the folks back home care for him and are backing him up. This war will be won by the whole people, not by any one class. The factors of civilization are face to face with the factors of the covetous autocratic Hun.

But speaking of the army in cosmic relations, I think it is a very fine place for physical, training the study of natural and political geography, political economy, human nature and best of all, it is the means and it seems the only means by which we will conquer the unscrupulous enemy.

The physical culture is fine. It makes one eat, and anxious to eat. The development of muscles follows, men are made stronger endurance doubled ambition upheld, and a better man is the result. He can think faster and act more accurately.

Opportunities For Traveling.

The opportunity to travel over the countries and visit the famous sceneries of the world is worth much from a stand point of pleasure as well as a genuine study of geography. Any sort of student will be bettered by soldering.

The short-time I have been in service I have traveled from home through Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, District of Columbia, New Jersey, and am now in New York on Long Island after having gone through North river, New York bay and East river from which places could be seen all the sky scrapers of New York City, Governor's Island and the Statue of Liberty and all sorts of things which an observing mind will grasp.

Three times I have made the trip over the rivers and bay and the last time we came within the gang plank's length of going to a ship, a sister ship of the Lusitania, bound for Europe. I am in the third squad, first Platoon of the First Company of the Ordnance Regiment and they got nearly to me in checking us off when orders were changed or something happened that we were sent back and did not go aboard the big ship. Many of our men, in fact all of them were somewhat disappointed. Every American soldier is anxious to go to France and do his part.

Learning The Value Of Time.

The saving of time and the importance of a few minutes is worth much for any one to learn who has not had a chance to study such things. One thing that illustrates this point occurred the night before we were to go to the port of embarkation when we had short notice. Every man was assigned to one particular task or detail, each knew just what to do the system is almost perfect. We worked that night 'till 2 o'clock, ate, slept 2 hours and resumed work in a cold, blustering rain, and did it cheerfully to get away on time and to hold up the pride of the American soldier. We got away on time.

I could tell you many things of this nature but they may be of little interest to you, and really I feel that I am imposing on you by writing you all this sort of "dope," but I want you to know that your two sons are serving a great cause and you should certainly be proud of them. They although good boys, will be better by going.

Folks At Home Backing Us.

To win this is our aim. The folks at home are behind us. They are buying Liberty Bonds, and subscribing to the Red Cross, Y. M. C. A. and K. of C. and other worthy institutions. Here let me say that the work of the Red Cross is great while other institutions are of much value. The Red Cross have canteens at R. R. stations and the sandwiches and hot coffee is relished by the traveled weary soldier.

I can't express the meaning of all of this. It is wonderful the way the citizens of the United States are backing us.

Another little incident took place while we were resting near the pier by a sugar factory in New York City where the entire laboring force was women, mostly foreign born, though they had the American or Allied spirit, and actually gave their noon lunches to the men who were tired and hungry. I stand a hike pretty well and did not partake of the food, but from the way the men ate it must have been fine food, and so it goes. The women are working, the men are fighting and youngsters are preparing. All of this sort will certainly lead us a victorious peace.

I am very glad to have letters from you. Write me often. I am sorry to hear that there is so much illness in your locality. Will be glad to hear you talk when you get your new teeth. "Don't talk through your nose to save the wear and tear of your teeth," but buy bonds and be liberal with the nation till I see you again. Give my regards to all and tell them to write me. Your friend, Logan Hickerson, 1st Co. 7th P. O. D. Bn. 1st Ord. Prov Regt. Camp Upton, N. Y.

Stationed At Camp McClellan.

Everett Miller is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. R. Miller of Tell City, Ind., and a brother of Mrs. Allen Waggoner of Hardinsburg Route No. 2, to whom this letter is addressed. Miller was conscripted last July and sent to where he is now.

Dear Sisiter: Will try and write you a few lines to let you know how I am, I am feeling fine now have been sick with the influenza. I have been worrying about the folks at home. I have not been getting my mail since I have been in the Hospital and Detention Camp but will go back to my company Friday. There is stout talk of us leaving here next week, so you don't need to answer this until you find out where I go, but you must write mother and try to keep her from worrying about me for guess if William has to leave she will worry sure enough, guess that is all she thinks now. Wish she would not worry about me for I am getting along alright. It certainly got me when Margaret died have been lost ever since can't hardly get used to not getting any letters from her had a nice letter from Mary last week think she has found out how much they miss Margaret but it is to late now would have come home if I could have gotten a furlough but could not get one. Well I hope none of you get the flu for it goes pretty hard with some people. Anna tell Allen the next time you write for him to write a few lines it won't take him long to write a little and I would appreciate it. I will close for this time with love to all. Your loving brother, Everett Miller.

Writes To Relatives From

Camp Sheridan.

The letter below comes from Pvt. William Wilkerson of Camp Sheridan written to his cousin whose name and address failed to accompany the letter.

Dear Cousin: Thought I would answer your most kind and welcome letter which I received a short time ago. This leaves me well and hope it will find you the same.

There are several cases of the Spanish influenza in the camp and some of the boys in my company have it and I run a good chance of getting it. Mama is still down here and she is well.

Carrie I won't get to write much until all of the influenza gets out of the camp for all of the Y. M. C. A's. are closed and the K. of C's. are closed too and it will be hard for me to get writing paper and stamps.

Carrie I went into the gas chambers today. The chambers are full of the chlorine gas which you read about so much in the papers and it is deadly poison. The Huns use it "Over-There," but I won't care for it when I get there for I have a good gas mask and I have lots of confidence in it. I can get it on in five seconds. No, I don't think the Huns will gas me. I also went through the tear gas. That will not kill you but it will make you cry worse than if you were at a funeral. We took off our masks while in there.

We are going through a maneuver known as a sham battle. I am in the trenches and the machine guns are firing all the time on the light artillery. It sure does make some noise. I am in a dugout most of the time operating a buzzer phone.

Tell aunt "Conzadia and uncle H. I said, "Hello". Give all my love and best wishes.

Well Carrie I will close for this time. I still remain your loving cousin, Pvt. William Wilkerson, Co. C. 209th Field Signal Batt. Camp Sheridan, Ala.

America The Best Country

In The World.

J. A. Barr who is an operator in a U. S. Naval Air Station at Arcoch is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Euphrasia Barr of McDaniels. Pvt. Barr is still of the firm opinion that after all America is the best country in the world. The following letter to his mother says:

Dearest Mother: Just a few lines tonight to let you know that I am well and never felt better in my life. How is every one with you? Hope this finds all of you well.

Every thing is just about the same over here. The Allies are still driving back the Huns and I am in hopes they will continue to until they drive them home. I believe they will and I am in hopes it will not take them long to do it. I would just as soon be back home. We have the best country in the world. Don't let any one tell you different.

I got five letters from the Koolart to-day. They were sent there about the time I left the States.

Who is the teacher in our school this year? Are all the boys going? Tell them to go every day, they will find they will need it some day, I know.

I will have to say good-night as it is about taps time. Good luck and good-bye. Your son, J. A. Barr, El 2 C., U. S. Naval Air Station, Arcoch.

None But Old People

Chas. E. McGary or perhaps known to his numerous friends in Breckinridge, his home county, as Gene McGary, writes that there is hardly any one left in France but old people and very young children. A letter addressed to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. McGary of McQuady reads:

My Dear Folks: This is Sunday and the first opportunity that I have had to write home since we arrived "Overseas." We were in England for about three days but I could not write from there because we were on the go constantly from the time we arrived here.

We are billeting in a little town which is nothing but a group of farm houses, and I believe they call it Villa. The houses that have been left by the French soldiers. I am sleeping in a hay mow.

It is much different here than in the States. There is no one here but old people and very young children. The country through which we came is very beautiful and has some fine roads, but the towns and some cities are very old and shabby. One room of the building in which I am staying was built in 1731. We are in the wine producing section and of course get plenty of wine and grapes.

I wish I could give you a lengthy description of the things and places I saw while in England, but of course I can't do so without mentioning some important cities and you know that is not permitted just now. I can and will say that I was very favorably impressed with the appearance of the country as it was nothing short of beauty. It seemed almost like a park. It reminds me of California as every yard was nothing but a flower garden. The people were very hospitable and cheered us along considerably. Don't forget to keep that greeting from King George.

Neither France or England with whatever beauty they may show compare with our Modern America.

We located near an American Hospital and I have seen a boy who was with Ernest, Aug. 17, when they crossed "No Mans" land and said he was O. K. Never Before

Has this store been so well fixed to save its many customers money on THEIR Fall and Winter clothing. Never in the recollection of the most of us has there existed such a scarcity of Men's and Young Men's quality suits and overcoats, a situation that will not change soon.

Many months ago, believing a condition like the present to be not far distant we bought heavy and from more concerns than those we had been buying from regularly, thinking in that way to protect our customers' clothing wants.

We have received about 80 per cent of our orders and you will find here a great assortment of men's and young men's suits and overcoats at 15 to 20 per cent less than their real value. It is to your interest to buy now as prices will be higher.

Telephone Courtesy

The people who get the greatest amount of good out of their telephone are those who talk over it as though face to face.

Courtesy smooths out difficulties and promotes the promptest possible connections.

The operators of the BELL System are trained to be patient and polite under all circumstances, but they will do better work if they meet with patience and politeness on the part of the telephone users.

The fact that you cannot see the operator or the other party should not cause you to overlook this. The best results come through the practice of mutual courtesy.

The voice with the smile wins
